Synopsis:

Isaac is a wealthy 28-year-old who has it all. He manages a thriving gay club, has great friends, and a nice condo. There's just one thing missing in his life – and he doesn't realize it until it shows up soaking wet at the bar, begging him for help.

"I knew I was being ridiculous. But there was something about Seth that made it difficult not to be."

Seth is a young man running for his life. Escaping from his abusive ex, he runs straight into the nearest crowded club and, in a panic, begs a man named Isaac to pretend to be his boyfriend.

” I needed him to be my savior, if only for five minutes.

When Isaac realizes Seth has nothing but the clothes on his back and nowhere to return to, he offers him a place to stay – but neither of them know how such an innocent decision will impact their lives. Between Seth’s trauma and Isaac’s insecurities, can a light shine through the darkness?

Heart of Light is a standalone 40k+ word M/M contemporary romance. It has no cheating, no cliffhangers and a HEA.
